DirectBuy of Columbia hires Expert Kitchen Designer Tim Watkowski

DirectBuy of Columbia, MD is already the place to go when you want to remodel your kitchen or bathroom, but with the addition of expert kitchen designer Tim Watkowski, they raised their profile even higher.

When it comes to kitchen layouts, cabinetry selection and functionality, he is the best-of-the-best. With over 30 years of experience, Watkowski knows all the “ins and outs” of designing, decorating and installing kitchens. Since joining the staff on July 1, 2008, he has already helped more than 80 members with their kitchen remodeling projects.

“Tim is a benefit, as many members greatly appreciate the ability to sit face to face with a seasoned professional in the industry and takes the time to listen to their needs,” said co-owner of the Columbia showroom Alexander Wong.

He has worked as a Designer and Installer for companies such as: Stuart Kitchens, Design House Kitchen, Home Depot, and Signature Company. He is a member and former student of the National Kitchen & Bath Association (NKBA) and has also received 20-20 Training.

Watkowski’s outlook regarding design and remodeling is centered on the principles that the right amount of time and consideration should be put into all projects and decisions.

“Take your time and research what you want before you even start thinking about remodeling your kitchen,” said Tim. “There are many details that go into planning and coordinating your kitchen remodel, so if you already know how you want your kitchen to look and function for your family, your project will be more enjoyable.”
